33º Domingo Comum

O mundo transforma-se. A evolução é grandiosa no campo científico, técnico e cultural. O reconhecimento da dignidade humana parece, enfim, estender-se a todos os povos através de organismos nacionais e internacionais. O próprio homem, individualmente, vai tomando consciência, para o mundo novo, de há muito anunciado e esperado. O Cristão vive, assim, da esperança. Esperança neste novo mundo em construção, fora e adentro da própria Igreja, e que teve a sua arrancada inicial na Ressurreição de Cristo e atingirá o seu termo na segunda vinda do Senhor. Esperança na construção de um mundo melhor, já aqui na terra, por forma a que os homens sejam efectivamente uma família, um só povo.

Leitura da Profecia de Daniel 12, 1-3 O povo judeu sofria, pelos anos 167-165 aC. dura perseguição, movida pelo príncipe da Síria, Antíoco Epifânio, quando Daniel escreve o seu livro. Sendo muitos os judeus mortos, por causa da intransigência da sua fé, punha-se o problema de saber qual o destino dessa gente que, em defesa do nome de Deus fora morta. Daniel fala da ressurreição como início de felicidade para além da morte. A vitória final pertencerá a Cristo.

Salmo Responsorial: Defendei-me, Senhor: Vós sois o meu refúgio! Defendei-me, Senhor.

Leitura da Epistola aos Hebreus 10,11-14.18 O exercício ministerial do sacerdócio só é possível como participação do sacerdócio real de Cristo. Em Jesus são perdoados os pecados que, por fraqueza do homem, hão-de acompanhá-lo até ao fim. A perfeição chegará um dia, conforme a promessa; todos os pecados desaparecerão e as forças do mal serão vencidas.

Evangelho de Nosso Senhor Jesus Cristo Segundo São Marcos 13,24-32 Jesus anuncia a Sua vinda no fim dos tempos, utilizando um conjunto de imagens muito familiares na linguagem bíblica. Constantemente Jesus passa por nós. Importa sabermos interpretar os acontecimentos através dos quais Ele nos fala.

XXXIII Sunday

November 14, 2021

First Reading (Dan 12:1-3) The First Reading is part of a vision of the prophet Daniel concerning the end of time.

It is remarkable because it contains the earliest statement of belief in the resurrection of the dead, and the first mention in the Bible of 'everlasting life'.

Psalm: Protect me, O God, for in you I take refuge.

Second Reading (Heb 10:11-14.18) This reading insists on the superiority of Christ's sacrifice over all the sacrifices of the Old Law.

In the Gospel we have part of Mark's Eschatological Discourse (13:1-37). Mark's account is coloured by what has already happened, for example, the persecution of the disciples in synagogues and before governors and kings. He believed that the parousia was imminent - a belief common among the early Christians. The precise time of the end is known only to God. Therefore, the disciples must not allow themselves to be misled by claims or speculations that the end is near but must maintain a constant watchfulness.

The Anchor

The anchor was commonly found in the Roman catacombs as a symbol of the cross and the hope we have in Christ behind this life:

“We have this hope as an anchor for our lives, firm and secure”. (Hebrews: 6:19-20)

Seen as a fitting inscription for a Christian tomb, the anchor is found in the Roman cemeteries of St Domitilla, St. Priscilla, Calixtus and St. Sebastian.

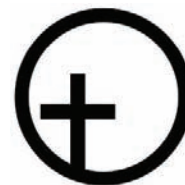

The anchor in this courtyard, was found where the old docks of Toronto (York) used to be, along Front Street. Some of the people buried at St. Mary’s Cholera Cemetery (1832-1834), whose names and stories are known to God alone, most certainly worked at the docks or had family members that did. May they rest in peace!
